RENEWED PETITION TO REVIVE UNINTENTIONALLY ABANDONED
APPLICATION UNDER 37 CFR 1.137(b)

Sir:

This is in reply to the decision dated March 30, 2009, rejecting the petition to revive the above-referenced application. The decision set forth a two-month term for response expiring May 30, 2009. The Commissioner is authorized to charge our deposit account no. 12-0400 in the amount of $490 to cover the fee for a two-month extension of time to extend the term for response to July 30, 2009, or for any other fees that are necessary for filing with this petition.

The application has two inventors: Stephan Carlsson and Jack Chalas.

The application was initially filed without a declaration. A Notice of Missing Parts issued October 5, 2001. The application has been assigned to ANZA AB, by both inventors, and a declaration was executed by Stephan Carlsson before he passed away. Jack Chalas had a falling out with ANZA AB and refused to sign the declaration. A declaration was executed by ANZA AB on behalf of the non-signing inventor, Jack Chalas, and both declarations were submitted on April 4, 2002.

A decision under 37 CFR 1.47 issued on September 30, 2002, rejecting the submission of the declaration executed by ANZA AB because 1) the evidence of record was insufficient to demonstrate that Jack Chalas refused to execute the declaration, and 2) the declaration of Stephan Carlsson was not clear as to whether he was signing on behalf of the non-signing inventor. The decision further required that the legal representative of Stephan Carlsson sign on behalf of both inventors if Jack Chalas refused to sign the declaration.

A renewed petition under 37 CFR 1.47 was filed on December 9, 2002, in which further evidence of the refusal to sign by Jack Chalas was presented. The Applicant contested the requirement to have the legal representative of Stephan Carlsson sign on behalf of now, both inventors who either could not, or would not sign the declaration.

A further decision under 37 CFR 1.47 issued on July 15, 2003 dismissing the petition, because a declaration by the co-inventor, or in this instance the legal representative of the deceased co-inventor, did not execute the declaration on behalf of the non-signing inventor.

On November 29, 2004, a renewed petition was filed in which the legal representative of Stephan Carlsson, his widow, Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson, executed a new declaration on behalf of both inventors.

On January 11, 2005, a further decision dismissing the petition issued. This decision dismissed the petition because it was not established to the satisfaction of the Examiner that Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson is the legal representative of Stephan Carlsson.

On July 7, 2005, a renewed petition was filed in which further evidence was provided to establish that Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson is the legal representative of Stephan Carlsson.

A reply from the Office is absent until on February 21, 2007 the Applicant re-submitted the renewed petition. The following day, on February 22, 2007, the Office issued a Notice of Abandonment. A telephone call to the Office revealed that they had no record of the submission of the renewed petition on July 7, 2005, but that the submission of the renewed petition on February 21, 2007 would be considered. A request for the status on the petition was filed on June 8, 2007.

On June 11, 2007, a decision dismissing the petition issued because the Examiner indicated that the required declaration which was previously submitted is missing, which was also indicated in a telephone conversation with Examiner Dombroske the same day.

On June 11, 2007, the declaration by Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson was resubmitted. That submission was also followed up by a subsequent repeated submission on November 7, 2007, and repeated phone calls to Examiner Dombroske.

On January 7, 2008, a decision issued dismissing the petition, in which it is indicated that the declaration by Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson is incomplete.

On July 3, 2008, a renewed petition was filed which stated that Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson was contacted to try to obtain a newly executed declaration. She was contacted by telephone by Mr. Hakan Johansson, Manager of Research and Development at Anza AB, and she indicated to Mr. Johansson that she would not sign any new documents. Following this telephone conversation, a certified letter was sent to Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson asking her to execute the declaration documents before June 11, 2008. The letter was received by Ms. Elvingsson-Carlsson, and she did not reply.

Enclosed with that renewed petition was an affidavit by Mr. Johansson setting forth these events, a copy of the certified letter, a translation of the certified letter, a copy of the return receipt for the certified letter, and a translation of the minutes from the telephone conversation between Mr. Johansson and Ms. Elvingsson-Carlsson.

Since the inventor Jack Chalas refused to sign the declaration, and the legal representative of deceased inventor Stephan Carlsson also refused to sign another declaration, there was no other alternative than to have ANZA AB sign on behalf of both non-signing inventors.

As previously stated, a declaration by ANZA AB on behalf of both inventors has been previously submitted. In addition to that declaration, a new declaration was submitted with the petition dated July 3, 2008. That declaration was signed on behalf of both inventors, although the signature of deceased inventor Stephan Carlsson was previously obtained. It was considered that declaration only needed to be signed on behalf of Jack Chalas, who refuses to sign, because Stephan Carlsson is no longer available to sign on behalf of Jack Chalas, and the legal representative of Stephan Carlsson refuses to sign.

On March 30, 2009, a decision dismissing the previous petition issued because: 1) the Examiner considers that there is still not enough factual proof that the legal representative of the deceased inventor was provided with a copy of the application and Declaration, and refused to execute the Declaration; 2) the Examiner objects that the Declaration executed by the representative of the assignee is not acceptable because the Declaration includes the previous signature of the one inventor who now refuses to sign, and it is unclear whether the representative of the assignee executed the entire Declaration; 3) the Examiner objects there is not enough proof that the inventor, Mr. Chalas, assigned his rights in the invention; and 4) the Examiner objects that the petition does not include a statement or showing that a petition is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties or to prevent irreparable damage.

With regard to the first objection, another certified letter was sent to Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson. That letter included and also indicated that a copy of PCT Application No. PCT/SE99/02311, which was filed as US Patent Application No. 09/868,426, is enclosed along with a copy of the Declaration that is to be executed. The letter asked that she reviewed the application and execute the Declaration by a certain date, otherwise the assignee will proceed without her. Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson did not respond by the requested date by returning the executed Declaration. Details of the letter which was sent is provided in the accompanying affidavit by Mr. Per Munktel, which also includes supporting documentation such as a copy of the letter sent to Ms. Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson, a translation of the letter, a copy of the return receipt showing that the letter was received by her, a translation of the return receipt. The affidavit additionally states that the Declaration and a copy of the application were included in the letter.

With regard to the second objection, another Declaration has been executed by a representative of the assignee, a copy of which is attached hereto. The representative of the assignee executed the Declaration and also initialled and dated each page so that it is completely clear that the representative of the assignee executed the entire document.

With regard to the third objection, the Examiner points to the fact that the assignment which was executed by Mr. Chalas only mentions the Swedish Priority Application No. 9804480-3. Since Mr. Chalas will not now execute another assignment, the assignee has no choice other than to argue against this objection. Both inventors were employees of the assignee at the time the invention was made, and both were employed for the purpose of creating new inventions on behalf of their employer. Both had, as a condition of their employment, the requirement to assign all their rights in any invention made in connection with their employment. Nevertheless, the assignee contends that the assignment is not deficient to assign the rights of the inventor, Mr. Chalas, to the assignee. The assignment which was executed and filed indicates that Mr. Chalas assigned his "entire worldwide right" to the invention described in Swedish Patent Application No. 9804480-3. That Swedish application is the priority application for PCT Application No. PCT/SE99/02311; which the present US application is a completion of. The assignment of his entire worldwide right surely also covers the filing of the present US application.

With regard to the final objection, the assignee contends that this petition is necessary to preserve the rights of the assignee or to prevent irreparable damage. Since the inventors and/or their legal representative are unable or refuses to execute the required declaration, or provide any other assistance in the filing and prosecution of this application, the assignee has no other alternative than to proceed with this application itself to preserve the assignee's rights in the application, otherwise the application will be abandoned.

It is now considered that all the requirements to revive this application have been met, and in view of the extended time from which the application was initially filed, and the unusual circumstances involved, it is respectfully requested that this petition be granted expeditiously.

If there is anything else that is required, the Examiner is requested to contact the undersigned attorney so that requirement may be quickly attended to without further delay.

APPLICANT: Stefan Carlsson et al
SERIAL NO: 09/868,526
FILED: June 19, 2001
TITLE: TOOL HANDLE

AFFIDAVIT

I, Per Munktel, hereby declare as follows:

I am a Patent Assistant employed by Albihns AB, a Swedish law firm that directly represents ANZA AB.

I personally attended to the below described attempt to have Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson execute a new declaration on behalf of the deceased inventor, Stefan Carlsson, and the inventor Jack Chalas who refuses to sign the declaration.

Irene Elvingsson-Carlsson is the widow, sole primary heir and legal representative of Stefan Carlsson.

Mrs. Elvingsson has chosen not to execute any of the documents forwarded to her by Albihns AB, nor has she responded to any correspondence.

However, Mrs. Elvingsson has by telephone clearly stated that she will not sign any document what so ever.

I have forwarded my correspondence by Registered mail. The full name in Swedish for this service is "Rekommenderad post". The literal translation would be "Recommended post". However, this service is commonly denominated by the first three letters of the Swedish name, i.e. "Rek". This abbreviation is so conventional that it is used by Scandinavia's largest messaging and logistics operator, Posten, when presenting the service Registered mail.

In my translation of the herewith attached documents, I have translated the Swedish, conventional, abbreviation "Rek" with the three first letters of the English name of the corresponding service, "Reg" as in "Registered mail".

I attach a copy of Posten's brochure, describing the service used to forward my correspondence to Mrs. Elvingsson (Annex 1). When forwarding our correspondence to Mrs. Elvingsson, I used an additional service not available for registered letters to foreign jurisdictions. Therefore, there exists no brochure in English describing the mail services used when forwarding the correspondence to Mrs. Elvingsson. However, I enclose a copy of the Swedish brochure where the relevant information is translated into English (Annex 2).

Registered mail is used when the sender wants to make sure that a letter reaches a specific addressee [2]. When forwarding a letter by registered mail, the sender hands in the letter at a post office [7] and the addressee has to collect the mail item at a post office [9, first passage].

The registered letter is stored at the delivering post office for collection by the specific addressee for a period of 30 days from the date of arrival [9, third passage]. After 30 days the registered letter is returned to the sender.

The registered letter can only be delivered after the addressee has proved his or her identity by presenting a proper identification document [9, second passage].

However, when employing the basic service, the addressee may send someone else with a power of attorney to sign for and collect the mail item [9, second passage].

In order to make sure that it was Mrs. Elvingsson that collected the correspondence I sent her, I employed the additional service [14] "Personal delivery" [15]. If the addressee receives a registered letter when the sender has ordered personal delivery, the addressee can not send someone else with a power of attorney to sign for and collect the registered letter. Only the addressee can then sign for and collect the registered letter [15].

By forwarding my correspondence to Mrs. Elvingsson by Registered mail and the additional service Personal delivery, I could be sure of that my correspondence had reached Mrs. Elvingsson personally.

In order to be able to prove that Mrs. Elvingsson had signed and collected my correspondence herself, I also made use of a postal service named "Notice of delivery". The service Notice of Delivery is not described in the aforementioned brochure (Annex 1 and 2).

The service Notice of delivery is perfectly compatible with the service Personal delivery additional to the mail service Registered mail. When a letter is forwarded by Registered mail and the additional postal services Personal delivery and Notice of delivery, the addressee, when signing for and collecting the registered letter after having presented a proper document of identification, signs a special Notice of delivery which is then returned to the sender in original.

Attached is a copy of a Notice of delivery (Annex 3). I have translated all of the information on the enclosed Notice of delivery (Annex 4).

In order to make use of both of the additional services Personal delivery and Notice of delivery when forwarding a Registered letter one has to comply with the instructions on the back side of the Notice of delivery [31, 35, 36 & 43] and:

- mark the registered letter "Notice of delivery" [45],
- underline the note "Notice of delivery" with a colour pen [46], and
- attach the "Notice of delivery" on registered letter to be sent to the addressee [47].

My correspondence to Mrs. Elvingsson was addressed to her street address as registered in the Public Population Register administrated by a government agent, the Swedish Tax Agency (Annex 5).

Attached is a copy of the filled in Notice of delivery (Annex 6). It was filled out in order to indicate that my letter was to be forwarded as registered mail [49].

The Notice of delivery was marked "personlig utlämning" which is the name for the mail service Personal delivery in Swedish [35, & 48]. Thereby the Registered letter could only be handed out to Mrs. Elvingsson personally without the option of a representative collecting the registered letter with a power of attorney [48].

Both the official address of the addressee, Mrs. Elvingsson [50], and the return address of the Notice of delivery to AlbiHns AB [51], is clearly indicated.

In order to avoid any misunderstandings at AlbiHns AB's internal postal department when receiving either the returning item of mail if it was not to be collected by Mrs. Elvingsson or the returning Notice of delivery, AlbiHns AB's case reference is indicated in the return address [51] and not in the specific space therefore on the Notice of delivery [29].

In accordance with the requirements of the desired mail services [44], the filled in Notice of delivery was attached to the registered letter [52] to be forwarded to Mrs. Elvingsson with the rubber stickers of the Notice of delivery [47] (Annex 8).

Furthermore, the names of the mail services Personal delivery and Notice of delivery [45] was noted on the item of mail [54 & 55, 57 & 58, 61 & 62, 64 & 65]. These last notations were also underlined with a colour pen [46, 56, 59, 63 & 66].

As a precaution, the public address of the addressee was also indicated directly on the item of mail forwarded to Mrs. Elvingsson [53].

The item of mail was handed in [7] to a post office 28 May 2009. Attached is a copy of the Receipt of registration (Annex 18).

The date of registration is confirmed by Posten's stamp [74] and the Receipt of registration is signed by the receiving officer at Posten [73].

The Receipt of registration indicates that a Registered letter [67] was registered under number RR115479651SE [71] to Mrs. Elvingsson [68] destined for an address with the postal code 51292 [69]. Albihs AB's case reference 187673 is also noted on the Receipt of registration [70] (Annex 19).

Attached are copies of the correspondence forwarded to Mrs. Elvingsson in the Registered letter handed in 28 May 2009. The forwarded correspondence to Mrs. Elvingsson consisted of:

- a request of signature (Annex 12)
- a copy of the International Publication No. WO 00/37221 (Annex 13)
- a marked up copy of the formal document to be signed by Mrs. Elvingsson (Annex 14)
- a statement of refusal to sign printed on pink paper (Annex 15) forwarded in a red plastic folder, and
- a prepaid envelope for Mrs. Elvingsson to use when returning the executed formal document (Annex 16).

The above mentioned documents were put in an envelope with the prepaid envelope folded around the other documents (Annex 17).

Albihs AB received the executed Notice of delivery on 2 June 2009. The date of reception is seen from the stamp used by Albihs AB's internal postal department [78]. Please find enclosed a copy of the executed Notice of delivery (Annex 20).

The date of signature and collection of the registered letter is seen from Posten's stamp on the executed Notice of delivery [77]. The officer who handed out the Registered letter has signed the Notice of delivery [76] (Annex 21).

Since my letter was forwarded by registered post and the additional mail services Personal delivery and Notice of delivery, the Notice of delivery has been signed by Mrs. Elvingsson personally [75] when she collected my correspondence after having presented a proper document of identification at the post office delivering our Registered letter [9] on 1 June 2009.

As of 10 July 2009, Albihs AB has not yet received any correspondence from Mrs. Elvingsson, nor any executed formal document.

I further declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon.

WO 00/37221

TOOL HANDLE

PCT/SE99/02311

FIELD OF THE INVENTION

The present invention relates to a tool handle and more precisely to an improved handle having a gripping hole for the thumb. The handle is suitable for tools like trowels and similar, and allows a better grip of the tool during work.

STATE OF THE ART

Conventional handles for various tools are known since a long time. The known handles have no holes for the fingers of the hand, but are enclosed by the hand. Sometimes the index finger, and possibly the middle finger, is extended forwards for applying pressure onto the tool further forward, towards the working portion of the tool. The extended fingers are used more for controlling and applying pressure to the tool than for holding it fixed in the hand. This is not ideal for all tools.

There are also "handles" consisting of only a hole for the thumb, e.g. on a palette. A palette is however not used like a tool in the conventional sense, but should rather be compared to a tray.

The present invention provides an improved handle compared to the previously known art. By providing a gripping hole for the thumb in the handle, the ergonomics is improved and the handle may be held in a more stable manner whilst simultaneously allowing a more comfortable, natural angle of the wrist.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

The present invention thus provides a tool handle. The tool has a working portion connected to the handle.

According to the invention, the handle is provided with a gripping hole for the thumb. Preferably, the gripping hole is located in such a way that the other fingers of the hand will apply pressure on the tool relatively close to the working portion.

The handle may also be provided with a removable plug, intended for placing in the gripping hole so as to give the handle a conventional, solid embodiment.

The invention and preferred embodiments thereof are defined in the appended claims.

BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE DRAWINGS

The invention will be described in detail below, with reference to the enclosed drawings, wherein:

Fig. 1 is a perspective view of a trowel according to the present invention, being held by a hand,

Fig. 2 is a perspective view of a trowel provided with a plug according to the present invention,

Fig. 3 is a perspective view from one direction of a plug according to one embodiment of the invention,

Fig. 4 is a perspective view of the plug of Fig. 3, from the other direction,

Fig. 5 is a perspective view from one direction of a plug according to another embodiment of the invention, and

Fig. 6 is a perspective view of the plug of Fig. 5, from the other direction.

DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF PREFERRED EMBODIMENTS

The invention thus relates to an ergonomically improved tool handle. The tool is illustrated here as a broad spatula or trowel, but the handle can also be used with other tools like grinding tools, brushes and the like.

As can be seen in Fig. 1, the exterior contour of the trowel resembles that of a conventional trowel having a handle 1 and a working portion 2 consisting of a metal sheet and the handle mounting. As is also previously known, the handle is not located at right angles to the working portion, but is here somewhat angled.

The novelty of the invention is, that the handle is arranged on the one hand for allowing it to be held enclosed by the hand, and on the other for allowing it to be held with the thumb only, by being provided with a gripping hole 3, intended for the thumb. The thumb of the hand is inserted through the hole in such a manner that the first joint of the thumb is pressing towards the handle, and the inside of the thumb is pressing against the forward, inner portion of the gripping hole 3. The rearward, inner portion of the gripping hole 3 simultaneously contacts the outside of the hand and the thumb. The other fingers are pressing with their tips onto the other side of the tool (the rear side in the figure). The pressure areas of the other fingers are marked by dashed ovals 4. As can be seen, the gripping hole 3 is oblong, allowing space for the thumb to be directed substantially forward along the handle, at a relatively small angle thereto. The entire hand is held rather extended, with all the fingers, including the thumb, only slightly bent. Also the wrist has a straight basic position, but will of course bend back and forth as necessary during work.

It may be seen that the tool, thanks to the gripping hole 3, will be very comfortable to hold. The pressure points will be distributed over the tool in an advantageous manner. It is easy to spread out and pull together the pressure areas 4 by spreading and drawing together the fingers, respectively, somewhat. The pressure areas 4 will always be distributed over a large portion of the width of the working portion 2 and all the fingers are utilised, making it easy to apply a strong pressure e.g. during filling and other types of work where sweeping motions are used. Thanks to the gripping hole 3, no fingers are needed for gripping around the handle, as was the case with the known art. The new handle makes better use of the construction of the human hand, with the thumb directed towards the other fingers.

Preferably, the gripping hole 3 has rounded inner edges against the thumb in order to feel comfortable. A suitable size of the hole might be about 3×4 cm, the hole thus being larger in the longitudinal direction of the handle. The gripping hole 3 should be located at an adapted distance from the working portion, such that the other fingers will apply pressure rather close to the working portion. Thereby, an optimum pressure and control of the tool is obtained.

For certain types of work, holding the tool like a conventional handle may however be more comfortable. In a preferred embodiment of the invention, the gripping hole 3 can thus be filled out by a plug 5. Fig. 2 shows a trowel having a plug 5 inserted. The plug 5 fills out the handle, making the pressure area inside the hand larger.

Figs. 3 and 4 show a first embodiment of the plug. As shown, the plug may be split. The plug consists of two halves 11 being connected to each other by means of a coupling. The coupling comprises a pin 9, affixed to or being part of one half, and extending into a through hole 10 in the other half. The plug is fitted by placing the halves, one from each direction, into the gripping hole 3, and inserting the pin 9 into the hole 10. The plug is held together by the friction between the pin and the hole. The plug has a cup-shaped peripheral edge 8 in order to smoothly follow the inner edge of the gripping hole 3. To remove the plug, one pushes on the pin 9 with a pointed object through the hole 10, making the halves 11 begin to part. Then the halves are easily pulled away from each other. Other types of couplings, e.g. Velcro straps, are conceivable. The above plug does not have to be elastic, but may be manufactured from a harder material, such as plastic.

Figs. 5 and 6 illustrate a second embodiment of the plug. The plug 5 is made in one piece and preferably made of rubber or some other elastic material. The plug also has a cup-shaped peripheral edge 6 in order to smoothly follow the inner edge of the gripping hole 3. The plug 5 is easy to fit by hand and can be removed with some pointed object, e.g. a screwdriver.

As is shown in the figures, the handle also has a suspension hole 7, as is conventional. The suspension hole 7 constitutes no part of the present invention and can also be omitted.

It will be understood that the handle according to the invention can also be used with other tools, such as brushes, paintbrushes, grinding tools etc. The angle of the handle relative to the working portion may of course also be varied depending on the use of the tool. The protective scope of the invention is solely limited by the following claims.
